

It's the first town hall of the year, and the theme is PURPLE OUT. Niki is painting faces for whoever wants it! Katya blows the conch to start, but it sounds really weird. She tries again, and it succeeds! MUUUUUUURRRRTTT. Also, side note, the Wop just played, and some people (me...) got really excited.

We start off with intros! Here's a quick list of the EC (Executive Council)

--Peter Abraham, President

--Emily Robinson, Vice President. She is responsible for many committees, as well as a liaison for Housing and Dining. Ants in your room suck, so talk to her if it happens.

--Aaron Daniels, Prime Minister. He's responsible for many, many committees, and for organizing Town Hall. He gets food for these things, so basically he's awesome for that.

--Noah Lozada, Chief Justice. Kind of like the po-po, but less intense. He upholds the student code of conduct!

--Tyler Woods and Maya Carillo, Co-Secretaries. THAT'S US. We spam your inboxes, book rooms, and take notes!

--Jordan Ashcraft and Tristanne Mock, Co-Treasurers. They handle the moneyyyyyyz.

Peter announces that this meeting is short. I can hear a sigh of relief from the crowd....We're talking about how to get involved with McMurtry!

1) First Year Representatives (McMurtry College government)

- You'll represent your class in the McMinistry as voting members!
- Definitely a great way to be involved with our government and to see how the college works.
- Elections will be next week, so look out for that!
- There is also a chance to run for College Night coordinators (open for anyone, not just new students!)

2) New Student Representatives (Student Association)

- This is the campus-wide government!
- There will be 6 positions available
- 3 will be for the committees (Student Life, Academics, Environmental)
- 3 will be for the Best Practices Task Force, which addresses specific issues around campus. One is headed up by yours truly! Should be a good time.

- NSRs get a lot of exposure to how Rice runs as a whole, with opportunities to complete personal projects to improve our campus and the lives of students.
- Contact our senator Trent Navran (tkn1@rice.edu) with questions! There is an application that will be coming out soon.

3) Committees!

- There are so many awesome committees at McMurtry, all headed up by gorgeous committee heads.
- If you want to get involved with specific areas of McMurtry (Socials, Programs, Game Room, Spirit, etc.), this is a great opportunity!
- "YEA AAAH PROGRAMMMSSSS" - John and Supreeth
- There will be a committee fair next Tuesday at 9 PM, so check it out! There may or may not be candy! :)

Centennial

- In case you missed it, Centennial is happening this year
- They don't really have a budget, so if other committees could help plan events, that would be awesome.
- There will be a number of events during the Centennial week at McM, so if you want to help plan that, talk to either Chelsea or Greta (the Centennial heads!)
- They'll be at the committee fair next week. Ways to get involved include helping with the Exhibit (creative people look here!), as well as if you just want to help out in general.
- Contact Chelsea (cjz1@) or Greta (gs8@) for more details!

Powderpuff

- WE WANT TO WIN EVERYTHINNGGGGGG
- Tonight is our first practice (SCREAMS OF YEAHHHHH)
- If you've never played, still come and play!
- Meet at 7 PM in front of the College Coordinators office. LET'S PLAY POWDERPUFF
- Robin ends with a delicate "thank you..."

Men's Ultimate

- If you love McMurtry and Ultimate, do this! Mason wants us to defend our college championship title!

Freshmen Flag

- MEN, if you want to kick ass and play some football, go find Ben or Houston on 4 Orange.

Time for the winner of the costume contest!

- Who has the most purple? Shane is decked out from head to toe. Peter is kind of purple....but then he sits down because no one cheers for him :(Jared has a purple tie, so that get's him to the final.
- Shane wins! Her prize? A kilted Willy shirt! The rest of the audience is totally jealous.

Wow, that really was a short Town Hall!

Love,
Your Sec-sy Secretaries,
Tyler and Maya
